Unsung Heroes Honored at Luncheon

Who: Students from all elementary, middle and high schools
Where: Oasis Conference Center at 1st Nazarene Baptist Church, 1500 S. 8th Street, Camden

When; Thursday June 3, 2010
11:00 am - 2:00 pm

Background: Three students from each Camden City Public School will be honored at a luncheon along with their parents for meeting criteria that includes:

- The student demonstrates consistent academic effort
- The student possesses a desire for learning
- The student displays positive behavior
- The student attends school regularly
- The student is always looking for ways to help others
- The student is a good citizen of their school and community

These 99 students are the ones who attend, study and succeed in the academic programs without being high profile. They are our true success stories in the Camden Schools. One student from each school will be named the outstanding student with the following criteria:

- Grade Point Average based on the average of all subjects for the first three marking periods this year
- Student exhibits good citizenship in their school and community
- Student attends school regularly
